About Plant Rhythms

Plant Rhythms is an ethically and environmentally responsible company providing high quality formulae and elixirs that work both physiologically and spiritually.

Plant Rhythms is dedicated to producing a range of natural herbal remedies mixed from wild harvested and native New Zealand plants. The uncommon blend of tinctures (physical extracts) and essences is unique to Plant Rhythms and offers a rich vehicle of wisdom and healing.

Amy McComb is chiefly responsible for the harvesting and production of every herbal formula. She oversees the manufacture of hand harvested herbs from the Karekare base nestled in Auckland's beautiful and rugged West Coast.

As a company, Plant Rhythms recognises their responsibility to maintain the integrity of the earth's natural environment, whilst actively supporting a return to vibrant health.

Plant Rhythms honours the holistic and divine human being, nurturing our connection with nature which leads to deeper awareness and realisation of self.

Plant Rhythms is honoured to promote a stronger understanding of herbal medicine, whilst advocating self empowerment.
