

FACILITATOR:

AMY McCOMB

Amy is a Herbalist who has worked in the ancient wholistic wisdom tradition for nearly three decades. She is the founder of Plant Rhythms, a NZ Native tree and Wild plant medicine company.

She has an Honours Science Degree from UNB (Canada) with a concentration both in indigenous healing and botany, and (some time ago!) completed an intensive herbal apprenticeship in Woodstock, New York State.

She has taught Herbal medicine at Wellpark College of Natural Therapies, NZ, in Nova Scotia, Canada and continues to facilitate Herbal courses throughout NZ. Environmental education and indigenous awareness are core aspects of her approach and being.

The Tree and Plant people continue to be her mentors and inspiration.

There may also be guest facilitators.

Plants remind us of our being state, our natural state of perfection.
